Girona, Spain

I am a passionate storyteller looking to begin my career in the tech world. Currently studying Videogame Design and Development at the University of Girona, mixing tech and art has become a strong interest for me. I'm proficient in Unity development, WebGL, shader programming, and frontend development. Currently seeking Summer 2025 internship opportunities in game development, creative coding, or interactive media to expand my technical and design expertise.
